

Union is truly a great place to raise a family. Union offers the best of both worlds; quiet neighborhoods, affordable housing, good schools . . . but close to large cities and all their amenities. The neighborhoods of Union reflect the values of safety, togetherness and community pride. It is the kind of place where a child can play on the quiet street outside her home without worry.

Not to mention the appeal of Nebraska living in general. Children's Health magazine rated both Lincoln and Omaha in the list of top 10 places to raise a family. Union provides families with the cultural attractions and extravagant events of both nearby cities, but also provides a peaceful community to come home to.
